OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

The News.

We publish gallant Phil. Sheridan's official letter in our telegraphic columns. The news grows better and better. Over 1,600 prisoners and 300 men were captured, which includes those taken from our forces at the beginning of the fight. Grant complimented Sheridan highly.

Vermont seems to be a poor place to raid into. Eight or nine of the raiders, including their leader, have been captured, and a good share of the money secured.

A severe fire occurred in Boston yesterday in which several noted race horses were burned.

Sherman is still after Hood, but with only a slight chance of getting a sight out of him. It is just now a live Hood.

All quiet with Grant.

Take Notice.

Our Green county friends who wish to attend the Mass meeting here on the 23d, are informed that the train for Monroe, that usually leaves here at 4:20, will be held for their accommodation until 6 p.m. We hope to see a large delegation from gallant Little Green on that occasion.

A PATRIOT'S OPINION.—The Rev. Dr. Breckinridge of Kentucky, in a recent speech, said of his nephew, John C. Breckinridge:—"The prospect of being President of the United States was a great temptation, and he fell under it. But I do not know that he fell worse or any further than Gen. McClellan has lately fallen."

The venerable patriot concluded his speech in the following strain:

Now, for God's sake, and for your country's sake, hold it at! Here we are, after between three and four years of war; after spending two or three thousand millions of dollars; after spilling the blood of a million of our brothers, and consigning five hundred thousand of them to their graves; after conquering an extent of territory 1500 miles in length by 600 in breadth; we have an army in every State of the Confederacy, and the majority of them under our control; we have every stronghold taken from them, except Mobile and Charleston and Richmond; and notwithstanding all this, we are asked, as if we were a set of patriots, to disgrace ourselves to the last generation of mankind, to sacrifice everything we have fought for, and that is worth living for, and make all the world say, free government is useless, that it cannot take care of itself. God Almighty in Heaven grant that every man who utters such a thought may be choked until he becomes a penitent and better man.

DISINTERESTED BENEVOLENCE.—The Milwaukee News make a great ado that Governor Randall should take an active part in the Presidential canvass while holding the position of First Assistant Postmaster General, but has no complaint that General McClellan should take twenty dollars a day from the treasury of the people, while running for the Presidency of the United States.

Thou hypocrite; first cast the beam out of thine own eye.

The New York Daily News, Ben. Wood's organ, which all along has denounced black troops as cowards, and their employment as barbarous, has changed its tune since the rebels talk of them; it says: "The slaves of the South can be made to supply an excellent material for infantry. Doyley, and of great physical strength, they may be converted into a soldiery in six or eight months.

REV. H. W. BREWER gave notice in his pulpit last Sunday morning, that he would on Sunday evening, until the presidential election, preach sermons which some people might call political. He gave the notices in advance, that if any did not wish to hear the discourse, they would have opportunity to leave their seat vacant for those who did!

The Provost Marshal General has decided that men drafted in September, who have put in substitutes, and were afterward entitled to exemption by reason of having paid commutation in June, under an order of the War Department, are not allowed to transfer their substitutes to others enrolled or drafted men.

PARSON BROWNLOW says that full half the shareholders of Tennessee are for Lincoln, not because they approve all his acts, but because they consider him the man to put down the rebellion; and that those who are for McClellan are traitors at heart, who do not want the rebellion put down.

A PHILADELPHIA dispatch states that Gen. Couch, commanding the department of the Susquehanna, has ordered the flags at half mast on the 21st, and signal guns to be fired in honor of the memory of Maj. Gen. Birney.

A Dutchman went into the Ningara, County Bank to make a deposit, having a number of Spanish quarters among his funds. The teller politely informed him that they could take them for twenty cents. The Dutchman looked up in astonishment, and said: "I keep 'em because de bills break; now, by gosh, the silver break too!"

A couple of goats tied together were recently driven out of a man's garden near Clonmel, Ireland. Stayed by a stick thrown at them, they jumped the fence and alighted, one hanging on each side of a nail's back. The colt dashed away, all of them kicking furiously, and ultimately falling into a quarry and being killed.

The Albany Argus says that McClellan is now in retirement, ready at all times, however, for service. There must be some mistake about this statement, as he is committed to immediate efforts for a cessation of hostilities.

UNPREDICTABLE COUNTRY.—In the Northern part of Ireland, the people are eminently lawless and willfully rebellious. The thinking and unthinking portion of the community will appreciate the great advantage of a permanent general practitioner, who can treat all diseases, giving due consideration to the new remedies. Dr. H. H. Putnam has never encountered a case of this disease he could not cure. The present season he is not available for applying proper remedies; delays are imminent. You will be cured this month, not next, to-day, not tomorrow.

All who are suffering from any of the diseases Dr. H. H. Putnam is treating, should at least once consult him, as he is the best physician in the Northern part of Ireland.

Dr. H. H. Putnam, proprietor of the Salterton House, Donegal, Ireland, is a man of great tact, and has a knowledge as to the efficacy of Dr. H. H. Putnam's treatment, not to mention hundreds of others in the Northwest who have been cured.

He has a large practice, and is well known throughout the entire country.

Myers' Block, Janesville, by a new method, and with remedies that are confidently successful in the above class of chronic diseases.

It is the best remedy for the community, and will alleviate the greatest percentage of the diseases that usually trouble the skin of the general practitioner.

Catarrh, the great promoting cause of consumption, and the most important cause of the new rheumatism. In Hale's hands, never encountered a case of rheumatism he could not cure.

All who are suffering from any of the diseases Dr. Hale makes a specialty in treating, please at least consult his practice, and get his judgment with regard to the cause and proper treatment.

He has a specialty in treating phthisis, at least and investigations are now going on to ascertain the cause and proper treatment.

State News.
Mr. Dana, of Kilbourn City, during this past season, raised on one acre of ground 2,100 pounds of hops, for which he realized $615. Mr. Noyes, of the same place, on six acres raised 12,857 pounds on which he realized $1,500. This is telling the soil to some purpose, and forcibly illustrates the wisdom of raising something besides wheat. The raising of a variety of crops, is the wisest course in farming, as all experience has proved.—The case of Blair vs Milwaukee & Prairie du Chien Railway Co., in which $20,000 damages were claimed for injuries received on a train of that road, was decided in the Circuit Court, Friday. A verdict was rendered of $8,000 for the plaintiff. The case has been lingering in the courts a long time, the accident which caused the injuries having occurred in January, 1863. The defendants have taken exceptions and appealed the case.

The Whiteporter Register, says a son of William Jordan, living near that village, met his death in the following painful manner: The boy, a lad of ten summers, was sent to turn a horse into the pasture, and not returning, search was made and the boy found in the lot fastened to the horse by the halter, and his mangled corpse being dragged about by the frightened animal. It is supposed that the boy playfully tied himself up with the halter while going to the pasture, and that the horse becoming scared at something ran away with him and tred him to death.—The United States Telegraph Company are constructing a line on the lake shore, through Port Washington, Sheboygan, Manitowoc, Green Bay, and to Lake Superior. The Evergreen City Times says it will be completed to Sheboygan before the 1st of December.—The Grand Jury of Grant County, last week, all but one, voted for Lincoln. The Petit Jury, also, took a vote for President, resulting in eleven for Lincoln and one neutral.

The town of Potosi in Grant county is paying $500 for volunteers to fill its quota.—The Portage Register says there was not a large audience to listen to the joint discussion between Sloan and Smith. It was conducted with ability and courtesy on both sides. Mr. Sloan's effort was highly spoken of.—The Ozaukee Advertiser notes the death of Robert Power, a Member of the Assembly of 1862. It says the County Fair was largely attended, and went off well. It records the death of Samuel Coffin, of Newburg, by the fall of a tree while chopping.—The Winnebago Democrat records the death of Peter Grude, of the town of Menomonee, in that county, occasioned by his team of steers throwing him down and dragging him under the harrow.—The Burlington Standard tells of a good crop of Sorghum yielding 356 gallons to the acre.

Stewart, the New York dry goods dealer, is building a marble structure, 61 by 144 feet, on the site of the late Sarapilla Townsend mansion, on Fifth avenue, of New York, but whether as a gallery of art or a private residence does not yet appear. It has already cost $200,000, and there is much speculation in regard to its use. If it becomes a private residence, 400 guests with moderate crinolines can be accommodated at one time on the drawing room floor.

Mr. Elihu Burritt ascribes much of the poverty of English laborers to the inordinate quantity of beer they drink. They pour most of their weekly earnings down their throats. He proves by figures that three years' beer money of an English farm laborer would pay for five acres of rich prairie land on the Illinois Central railroad, his fate by sea and land to them, and leave him three pounds in his pocket to begin their cultivation with.

The Toronto Globe, in an article on the late Union victories at the ballot-box, says: "Gen. McClellan never had any reasonable prospect of being elected, but present appearances indicate that he has as good a chance of getting to be Emperor of Japan as he has of becoming President of the United States."

The Democracy claims a "splendid victory" in Ohio. We think we see it. If losing twelve out of fourteen Congressmen is a "splendid Democratic victory," the Union party will be happy to have them repeated as often as the Democracy desire.

Our Next Chief Justice.

[From the New York Tribune.]
A very grave responsibility has devolved upon President Lincoln through the vacation by death, for the second time during the present century, of the office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. That this responsibility will be nobly met, must be the prayer of every lover of his country.

Old John Adams, on the very eve of his retirement from office, designated John Marshall of Virginia for this important post—one of the many wise and patriotic acts for which adequate credit has never been given to Washington's immediate successor. The civilized world has learned to honor Marshall as one of the ablest and soundest of those great, pure jurists who are from time to time rousered to bless mankind. After George Washington, we doubt that any man has done so much to deserve the gratitude and reverence of the American people as did John Marshall. Gen. Jackson was required to designate Marshall's successor, and his choice fell on Roger B. Taney—not so great, not so wise a man as Marshall, but still an able, learned, upright judge, whose one signal alteration from the line of duty his surviving countrymen will now hasten to forget. Save in that instance, we doubt not that he endeavored to tread rigidly in the footsteps of his illustrious predecessor.

President Lincoln is very likely to be personally estimated by the next generation according to his choice of a Chief Justice.

If he gives us a great, pure, true, illustrious jurist—one who comprehends the relations of Law to Liberty, reverencing them both—he will be signally exalted thereby in the judgment of the next age; while, should he appoint some one who seeks the post, but is not required by it—should he employ his great opportunity to the paltry end or securing a friend, satisfying a grumbler, or paying a political or personal debt—he will sudden millions and indefinitely tarnish his fame. Notoriously, the bench of the Supreme Court is not so strong as it was forty years ago; emphatically, it needs to be reinforced and elevated in the good opinion of the Nation. We trust the President will take ample time, avoid all committals, repel sycophants, resist importunities, resolved that his choice of a Chief Justice shall be the crowning grace of a career of exalted and benificent public service. No man can possibly have any claim to so lofty a trust that is not wholly founded in pre-eminent ability, integrity and worth.

A STRATEGIC COON.—We witnessed an amusing incident on one of our suburban streets last Saturday. A fashionable young lady, got up in the highest style of the milliner's art, and arrayed in all the glory of a five dollars a yard silk, a twenty dollar bonnet, and a three hundred dollar shawl, was majesticly sweeping along in the direction of the Fair Ground, while just behind a boy was leading a pet coon. A countryman in a brown slouched hat and linsey-woolsey "warms," came along followed by a "yallid" dog, whose nose was seared diagonally, transversely and latterly by the scars of many a fiercely contested battle with members of the raccoon family. "Tige" no sooner saw the ring-tailed representative of his ancient enemy, than he made a frantic dive for him, accompanied by a furious bark. Cooney comprehended the situation at a glance, bolted incontinently, and sought sanctuary beneath the ample circumference of the lady's crinoline. The young lady screamed, while the dog made rapid circles, sniffing the air, evidently bewildered to know what had become of the coon. The situation of the young lady was critical and embarrassing. She was afraid to move for fear the coon would bite, and the coon declined to leave his retreat until the dog had retired. Finally the dog was stoned off, the boy dragged the coon from his hiding place, and the young lady went her way, with a lively consciousness of having experienced a new sensation.—Indianapolis Journal.

THE OWNER OF LIBBY PRISON—His Experience in Richmond.—The Fortress Monroe correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer says:

"Among the passengers that came down from City Point, Va., by the mail boat this afternoon, was Mr. John Libby, the present owner and former occupant of the large storehouse in Richmond, which, since the war, has been notorious as a prison for Union soldiers captured in battle, and known as Libby Prison. Mr. Libby, with several other gentlemen, had long been suspected by the rebel authorities as disloyal to the cause of the Confederacy, but had managed to escape the wholesale conscription until the last order—the revocation of all details—was issued, in the face of which he received an order to prepare for military service the next day. With the assistance of several Union citizens in Richmond, Va., he immediately formed a plan to escape, which he carried into effect the next day, having managed to secure a pass to leave the city on a pretense of visiting some friends in the country."

WIGS FOR GENERALS STAND.—All the Generals who have proved failure during the war, and been dismissed the service, are for the great failure, McClellan; but the live generals are not there. The Copperheads have been claiming Hooker and Rosecrans. The former spoke for himself at Chicago, on Saturday, and if there is anything Coppernick or McClellanish about that little speech, which is printed in another place, we can't see it. As for Gen. Rosecrans, he is about as much of a Copperhead as fighting Joe Hooker. To claim that he is for McClellan is a shadow upon his reputation for bravery and loyalty. We have, moreover, the very highest authority for saying he is with the Union party, and will vote for Lincoln and Johnson. Don't talk about Union Generals and Union soldiers being for the Chicago candidates. No use. See how they voted in the Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Maryland elections!

A BROTHER OF VALLANDIGHAM CONVICTED OF ILLEGAL VOTING.—Perley Vallandigham, "nephew of his uncle," the famous Clement L., was convicted in our District Court yesterday, for illegal voting at the city election last March. He will be sentenced by Judge Richman to-day, we presume. It is needless to say the culprit voted the copperhead ticket and for Punk. The latter functionary persuaded him to vote illegally, promising to stand between him and harm. It requires no little perfidiousness to make an ultra copperhead in these days.—Muscatine Journal, Iowa.

DIARRHEA AND DYSENTERY.—We have examined a great number of letters from some of the most prominent citizens of Cincinnati and Covington, etc., speaking in the highest terms of Dr. Strickland's Anti-Cholera Mixture for the cure of diarrhea and dysentery. The letters are too long to publish. Mr. Woods, of Covington, says he was pronounced incurable by the best doctors in Cincinnati, and one bottle of Dr. Strickland's Anti-Cholera Mixture effected a permanent cure after suffering for months with the worst form of diarrhea and dysentery.

Another says he was discharged from the United States service after suffering in the hospital for eight months as incurable, and saw his last resource tried Strickland's Anti-Cholera Mixture. He got well directly and has now entered the army again in good health. One man writes he has suffered seven or eight very bad cases of diarrhea and dysentery in the last two weeks in one bottle of this valuable medicine. In fact we could fill half paper with similar items from these letters. Why does not our government recur this valuable preparation? Our army ought to be supplied with it. It is but a short time since one of our men lay in a very low condition at one of our Cincinnati Hospitals, his wife was sent for. The doctor considered his case as hopeless. She, however, gave him Strickland's Anti-Cholera Mixture, and in three weeks he was able to return home with his wife to New Richmond, O. All these cases right at home speak for themselves. We hope all the soldiers will put a bottle of it in their kit-chances. It may save them or some of their comrades. It is for sale by Druggists at 6 cents per bottle.

Happy Families.

How very few happy families there are to be found, even among the best of people. Reader, how many do you know—not think you know merely because you run often into their houses? How many families that you have had opportunity to know, at night and at morning, in summer and winter, in comfort and in trouble, do you call happy in each other? I know a lady, a liberal judge, who has had a remarkable chance to study thoroughly a large number of families, and she says there are but three which she knows, of which she dares positively to affirm, "their members are happy in each other."

This is a sad and hard saying; the more so that it came from a kind, affectionate and naturally cheerful heart. But is it not better to own the truth and to try to improve matters, than to go on talking and writing as though happiness was the rule and unhappiness the exception in families? There is scarce a father who is not made unhappy by his sons, scarce a son that is not made unhappy by his father. Husband do not act or speak as they should towards their wives, nor wives towards their husbands. Even mothers and daughters speak harshly and act unkindly to each other, and among sisters there is selfishness and contention. If this were necessary it might be borne; but it is not. There is no necessity, no excuse for injustice or unkindness in the family relation. And Christians at least ought to know it. If each one would make it a rule never to speak unkindly, then bitterness and wrath would die a sudden death. It is better to love the living well, than to mourn for those that have died—and it is better to look on the good and pleasant traits of our friends and praise them, than to lie over on the lookout after their faults and scolding them. If you smile at people's good deal, and are careful about the tones of your voice as you speak to them, you are yourself much happier.

If there is anything that can make a sensitive heart wretched, it is to hear parents and children, brothers and sisters, all talking to each other in harsh, fault-finding tones; and oh! how much such talk does! It is enough to cause one to long for solitude where no voice can be heard. There is nothing on earth so divinely sweet as friends' pleasant voices; but they can be made the most painful things in the world. Sometimes it seems a wonder that any one should ever dare to enter into the family relation. It seems to surround one with spies and fault-finders.

FOR A FEW short months or years, all goes lovingly; but with the children come eyes and looks and words. The father is unreasonable, the mother is unreasonable, and the children are unreasonable; and instead of making it a rule not to be set aside that there shall never be but one unreasonable party at a time, and that the others shall be (though firm, if useful, and not afraid properly and in a right spirit to punish) patient and truly kind, all are cross and unreasonable at once, and the house is filled with misery. Those two dear boys are banished from very many homes—"bear and forbear." When your husband is cross, coax him, or let him alone; don't "snap back." Children should never be scolded or fretted at—they should be petted and humored in all lawful ways, loved always, and spanked heartily all that they need to induce them to mind at once speaking. Parents, do your duty by your little children; make life a joy to them and home their paradise, and as surely as you live when they are large they will make life a joy and home a paradise to you. But if you crush or wrong, or neglect, or neglect to train and discipline them when in your power, when you fall into their power, you'll be made to rue it. Beware! there is no law so certain in its workings as the law of retribution for abused love. After having dwelt in a family where smiles and soft words and affectionate deeds reign, it is like descending into purgatory to abide where grim faces, harsh words and hard deeds are the daily history. "Dearly beloved, I beseech you by the love of Jesus Christ, that you love one another," and that in all your words and deeds you show it.

INSURANCE HEADQUARTERS, JAMESVILLE, Oct. 12, 1864.—The part in St. Louis and Cincinnati, who have been counterfeiting the Mustang Liniment, under accusations of proprietorship, have been thoroughly exposed by the Courts. To guard against further imposition, I have procured from the United States Treasury, a private seal plate revenue stamp, which is placed over the top of each bottle. Each stamp bears the fac-simile of my signature, and without which the article is a Counterfeit, dangerous and worthless imitation. Examine every bottle. This Liniment has been in use and growing in favor for many years. There hardly exists a hamlet on the habitable globe that does not contain evidence of its wonderful effects. It is the best ointment in the world. Whilst its present improved ingredients, its effects upon man and beast are perfectly remarkable. Sores are healed, pustules relieved, livers saved, valuable animals made useful, and untold life assured. For cuts, bruises, sprains, rheumatism, swelling, bites, cuts, enked breasts, strained nerves, &c., it is sovereign remedy that should never be dispensed with. It should be in every family. Sold by all respectable dealers.

DIARRHEA AND DYSENTERY.

We have examined a great number of letters from men of the most prominent citizens of Cincinnati and Covington, etc., speaking in the highest terms of Dr. Strickland's Anti-Cholera Mixture for the cure of diarrhea and dysentery. The letters are too long to publish. Mr. Woods of Covington, says he was pronounced incurable by the best doctors in Cincinnati, and one bottle of Dr. Strickland's Anti-Cholera Mixture effected a permanent cure after suffering for months with the worst form of diarrhea and dysentery.

Another says he was discharged from the United States service after suffering in the hospital for eight months as incurable, and as a last resource tried Strickland's Anti-Cholera Mixture. He got well, did well and has now entered the army again in good health. One man writes he has cured seven or eight very bad cases of diarrhoea and dysentery in the barracks he was in with one bottle of this valuable medicine. In fact we could fill half a paper with similar items from these letters. Why does not our government issue this valuable preparation? Our army ought to be supplied with it. It is but a short time since one of our men lay in a very low condition at one of our Cincinnati Hospitals, his wife was sent for. The doctors considered his case as hopeless. She, however, gave him Strickland's Anti-Cholera Mixture, and in three weeks he was able to return home with his wife to New Richmond, O. All these cases will soon be cured for themselves. We believe all the soldiers will put a bottle of it in their knapsacks. It may then serve some of their comrades. It is for sale by Druggists at 65 cents per bottle.

Over the Post Office!

There is nothing so much sought for by the public as a practical Sewing Machine, one that is Simple, Strong & Reliable.

One that will run years without the annoyance of getting out of repair; one that is noiseless and silent; one that also makes the stitch as you want it; alike on both sides of the fabric; such as the machine of the

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE COMPANY!

Who take pleasure in placing their machines before the public and individual buyers, as they are the best in the world, and openly and publicly challenging machines of any and all manufacturers to do any range of work as can easily be done on one of these machines.

They are perfect in every way, and will stand the test of any other machine.

They are good and healthy appetite.

They are the best health in existence.

They are the best preventive of Fever and Ague.

They relieve constipation.

They cure nervous Headache.

They are perfectly pure and palatable.

They are the celebrated strong, and restore to strength the exhausted.

Ageed persons and delicate females will find they can save large doctor's bills by the use of these Bitters.
